A-dec® Century Plus Handpiece Control Assembly

The A-dec® Century Plus Handpiece control block is used in automatic systems to control the routing of coolant air, coolant water and drive air to the handpieces and scalars. To facilitate on-site service, each Century Plus Control block includes three cartridges (water valve, handpiece flush, and air bleed). These cartridges are accessed from the underside of the dental unit. This allows you to easily replace parts without removing covers or the control block assembly from the unit.

DCI offers a complete Century Plus Control Block Service Kit, P/N 9154 for all of your service needs.

These parts are manufactured by DCI International to fit A-dec® Equipment.
